Discarding the Ace | | By Robert Minor

ESTABLISHED BY JOSEPH PULITZER. Daily Except Sunday by the Press Publishing Company, Nos. 52 to 53 Park Row, New York

RALPH PULLTZER, President, 62 Park Row. J. ANGUS SHAW, Treasurer, 63 Park Row. JOSEPH PULLTZER, Jr., Secretary, 63 Park Row.

Entered at the Post-Office at New Tork as Second-Class Matter, oription Rates to The Evening For England and the Continent and World for the United States

All Countries in the International Postal Union.

VOLUME 53......NO. 18,611

THE TAXI TERROR.

ECRETARY OF STATE LAZANSKY declares that he will ask the State Legislature for a law to prevent thugs and criminals from seting as chauffeurs of public licensed taxicabs. The police have done little to check this evil. The Aldermen have

At the time of the Montani taxicab robbery the police themselves estimated that two hundred ex-convicts were driving taxicabs in this city. The Rosenthal murder has been only the most conspicuous of many bold and daring crimes that have shown how readily thieves and murderers can find accomplices among taxicab drivers to take them to the scene of their dirty work and contrive a quick getaway. The citizen who takes a taxicab is at the mercy of any crook or criminal who happens to sit in the chauffeur's scat.

The situation is scandalous. Are there then no city ordinances? Are there no Aldermen to make them? Since the beginning of the year the Aldermen have promised at intervals to take up the question of taxicab licenses and taxicab fares. They have done nothing. Do they mean to let the New York taxicab go on its own lawless, reckless course until it becomes even more notoriously bandit, robber and outlaw? Are they not content to have it already a byword-an object of amazement and contempt to visitors?

DOUGH BAG DIPLOMATS.

THE report that an Ambassador from the United States to an important European court was forced to retire to make room for a rich friend of the President who had contributed $25,000 to that President's campaign fund has never made pleasant reading. Nor does the explanation that public criticism changed the plan and sent the rich man to a lesser post make it less dis agreeable.

This man seems in any case to have been the most generous of several contributing diplomats. A published list of friends of the President now holding the highest diplomatic positions abroad, together with the sums which they individually contributed to campaign funds, challenges the instant criticism that several of these gentlemen are neither by training, character nor achievement as worthy to represent this country in the highest foreign circles as many men more acute, more scholarly, more distinguished, whose pocketbooks could not, however, open so widely before election time.

It is a pity that this criticism is just. It is a pity that we cannot point to more names of highest distinction among our Ambassadors and Ministers. 'It is far worse than a pity that the presence of any representative of the United States in the capital of a foreign goverament should have to be explained or excused either by his checkbook or by his campaign contribution.

A CASE FOR THE KNIFE.

O IT has come. A call for a mass meeting at Cooper Union signed by Jacob H. Schiff and others reads: "Protection of life and property is a basic duty of government. Recent developments show a degree of lawlessness that vitally threatens the community. It is necessary for private citizens to act. A mass meeting will be held at Cooper Union soon to adopt a suitable programme, including the support of such effective efforts as are put forth by public authorities to reassure our citizens and to eliminate law-

Those who have started the movement say they will spare no expense to induce the best lawyers obtainable "to devote all their time to severing the alliance between the police and the underworld."

It is the only hope. Cool, expert diagnosis and operation by an honest, disinterested surgeon is the only thing that will remove the ugly growth that weakens and poisons authority in this city.

The patient must go under the knife. No more delay and self- calumnies that he constantly frequented room and whispered, "I take Chronos he the forelast as to speek. May I ask

THOSE negro delegates are going to have a hard job making a Bull Moose look like Marse Linkum

Letters From the People

To the Editor of The Evening World:

I wish some reader would think out an answer to this. "Why is it that left arms opposite to the direction we

Employees' Vacations.
To the Editor of The Evening World:
I have read a letter of a "Downtowa Merchant" who says he gives his employees two weeks' vacation with pay and wants to know if he is doing right. Let me tell him that if he pays his employees fair wages and treats them fairly he is doing the right thing. He will have the good wishes of his emfaithfulness in return. He, no doubt, gets many little overtime and other helpful acts which are never paid for On the other hand, I read a letter by a man who says he never gives his employees a vacation with pay and does not see why he should even give his wife and daughters a vacation. This is truly typical of many men. They lay their employees off for two or four weeks in summer without pay and consequently have a lot of discontented employees, who work because they have to and who care little for their firm's EMPLOYER

Achilles and the Turtle. to me Editor of The Evening World:
In reply to Zeno's paradox of "Achilles and the Turtle," I would like to say that it would be impossible Achilles to catch the turtle (in figures on paper). For he would be unable to run or move in such short as figures would require of him. He would to all appearances be standing settl But, taken practically, we soon

For instance, take the hands of a wish some reader would think out faster than the hour hand. Set the hour court, when we met here in Gus's."

In we walk we swing our right and a difference of ten spaces between the state than the hour hand. Set the hour court, when we met here in Gus's."

"And it's sixty cents owed me for putting in two winder lights, and yet I wouldn't be mad in its recesses, while a few silver coins might be brought to view.

"My request is but for currency sufficient to the direction we two. We all know that the minute hand."

"And it's sixty cents owed me for putting in two winder lights, and yet I wouldn't be mad in its recesses, while a few silver coins might be brought to view.

"My request is but for currency sufficient to the direction we two. We all know that the minute hand." left arms opposite to the direction we move our right and left legs?" JAS J.

Employees' Vacations.

Tembe Editor of The Evening World:

I have read a letter of a "Downtova"

Left arms opposite to the direction we two. We all know that the minute hand wouldn't mention it here in Gus's," said Mr. Dinkston.

Slavinsky, the glazier. "Even if you "The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

The price of a round, eh?" said Mr. Dinkston.

the place.

"I deprecate, naturally, the crass and considerate commercial trend th versation has assumed," said he. "And," he bowed to the others, "I ask friend from the unfortunate embarrassment that your untimely loquacity must entail upon him. I crave the indulgence F Mrs. Jarr could have seen the I may confer with Mr. Jarr, in camera. "Welcome, Stranger!" greeting her as one might say. We seek the privac; husband received in Gue's popular and seclusion of the rear apartment for cafe at the corner, the other evening. It a brief space of time."

might possibly have hushed forever her So saying he led Mr.

request financial assistance?"

Mr. Jarr Learns How Popular a Man Can Be-With his Creditors

Such a sum is profligate," said Mr. soing to be no fighting here," said Gus ston flourishes once more, and the es- to treat, too." tates of which we have been wrongfully True tempe aye, WRONGFULLY, deprived, shall tion," said Mr. Dinkston. "I shall hold once more revert from the distaff side— your proffer of unexpected hospitality as I allude to a maternal aunt who has our two-family dwelling on Joralemon street in the Borough of Brooklyn-then you will be compensated in full!"

the bar and cried merrily: our Strephon returned to us!" "I wouldn't let him call me that!" said a libation!" Gus darkly. "That fellow has a way of "Fill up the can, keep out the cold. Fighting men make thirsty cattle!"

rance consists of modera hostage against future aridity."

GOLDSMITH'S CHARITY.

251 - (Why are the body's bones so different in shape?)-The long

Sayings of three:

not murmur.

I shall not repine.

me by one, I shall not be cast down.

FALSE ILLUSIONS concerning MEN.

casm, nor repine at their grouches.

constant STINGS; she suffereth untold pangs. Then grant me, I pray Thee, this one panacea:

life, repartee, and the pursuit of a husband! Amen.

257.—What is the origin of "pin money?"

260. What makes unripe apples sour?

259. Why do grapes never ferment while on the vine!

258 .- Does a fan cool the air?

not of shall keep me charming.

She burneth her own fingers.

bones are used for motion; the broad and flat bones for protection the square and short bones are for both motion and strength. 252.-(Why are three gilt balls used for pawnbrokers' signs?)-The Med: family of Florence were money lenders. Their coat of arms bore three gilt balls 253.—(Why are wet summers often followed by very cold winters?)—The great evaporation that has continued through the summer reduces the temperature of the earth and produces cold.

IESE questions will be answered Wednesday. Here are replies to Daughters, hear now the "Maiden's Prayer, without variations,"

Lo, I do not ask for wealth, nor for beauty, nor for love; for, having level head, and a soft tongue, all these things shall be added unto me. A crooked nose line, I can bear it. And curling hair I shall not crove.

I sigh not for the charms of an hours; and though GNE husband be

Though my scalat line increaseth, year by year, and my teeth depart

For, a cheerful disposition shall sustain me, and the smile that ownet

Though chorus girls marry above me; though I never build mine ou

For, behold, I shall not take myself SERIOUSLY, nor be filled wis

Lo, a woman that regardeth herself scriously is a human joke; and

Though my cooking be deadly, and my shoes "number sevens," I shall Verily, verily, a woman WITHOUT a sense of humor is as one that goeth into New Jersey clad in open works. She layeth herself bare to

That I may laugh when men laugh, and the point of their jokes shall

That I may not tremble at their wrath, nor wither under their so-

And that, all the "ays of my youth, I shall dwell in the enjoyment a

a pocket

Copyright 1912, by The Free Publishing Co. (The New York World).
256.—Why scon't a polished tin pan bake bread as recedily as an fron one!

not despair. For a sense of humor shall rover me as a mackintosh, all which the lemons, that Fate casteth at me shall roll, as water, woman that dallyeth with illusions is as a babe that playeth with matches.

bungalow; though my frocks be made over, and my complexion made up all that is granted unto me in this day of Progressive Matrimony, I shall

Oh, Providence, in Thy mercy, I beseech Thee, grant me these which the Wise Virgin chanteth in her heart:

A level head, a soft tonque, and a sense of humor!

And the greatest of these is a SENSE OF HUMOR.

254.- (Why does heat melt metal?)-It forces the metal's solid particle: asunder until the power of cohesion is sufficiently overcome to change the soil! metal into a liquid.

255 .- (What is the origin of the word "Hurrah?")-It comes from the Slavenic phrase "Hu-ray," meaning "To Paradise!" This was a battle cry among the

Fables of Everyday Folks

B) Sophie Iren Lock

Copyright, 1912, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York World).

THE REAL THING. NCE upon a time there was a mar- to get the bread and water and all that sibility and hon-

He looked around him and saw some a COMFORT it would be to be in CON one that he thought would make him a STANT company of such a companion ried man. When you use the goes with it, while she was to be queen term "married .nan" immediately of the kitchen and general utility lady visions of respon- in the rooms called home-sweet-home Of course Cupid peeped in est, straight, "Will you be my wife?" scene. But, so: steady, down-to-long after, life assumed a continuous steady, down-tothe - grindstone conclusions that go with the "married man" fit through your mind.

This man was no exception. He marexception. He marexcept ried very much as a matter of course.

So she touched upon this idea and that until the man MATVELLED at her needed a firestly fund of KNOWLEDGE and DELIGHT. "I don't handle that brow, and there's developing the story of things and drinking on the stoop. I am't got a stoop!" said Gus.
"Well, let us assuage our thirst. What "Well, let us assuage our thirst. What says the Hungarian poet of an elder"

Says the Hungarian poet of an elder "CENERAL"

CENERAL Companion to the second party which he did not dream women were interested in or knew anything about the beginning, now and ever shall be What a bright woman, he thought.

What a bright woman, he thought. World without end."

CENERAL COMPANION TO SHAPE AND THE SHAPE AN

> good wife (whatever that is). It was a After the business was over the wife plain, EVERYDAT proposition. He was one in and joined in the general talk.
>
> On his way home he reflected. Howondered if it wasn't a MISTAKE to marry a woman who did not know things. The next day he reflected more. And so for several days to come, until he began to pity himself every time he thought of the lucky man-his friend. Now it came to pass that the man and his wife were being entertained in a large company of THINKING people By a usual circumstance they were separated in the party. But the husband accidentally found himself near his wife who was talking to an old diplo-He could not believe his ears! She was talking on subjects and displayed a complete knowledge of things of which he had never dreamed she was CAPA-

On several other accasions he noted similar ideas that she had evolved and how her listeners seemed DELIGHTED in her company, He was surprised to find that in the everyday, when he was not about, she had not been lacking in looking up the life about her, and had absorbed many things in HER studious, quiet way that he had not thought s'ie possessed, be-cause he had never assumed that she was capable of any more than being the aforesalt wife he had looked for." MORAL: IN LOOKING OVER THE REAL THING DON'T OVERLOOK WHAT IS AT TOUR DOOS! WHAT IS AT TOUR DOOM!

weight champion of the English lanforbearance in extricating our of those present for a brief space that

So saying he led Mr. Jarr to the back "Why, hello! Is it you, ain't it?" cried that the ebuillent greetings, the felicita-Gus. "My, my! The sight of you is tions upon your return, the acciamations good for biind eyes!" "You needn't stayed away because a matter extremely necessitous? While you don't want to see me about on ac- I am not avid of being under pecuniary you don't want to see me about on account of that balance what is owed count of that balance what is owed obligations, even to so old an associate.

"Me, neither," volunteered Muller, the grocer. "Let bygones be bygones; and, request financial assistance?"

"at matter extremely hecessitous, what wants to set 'em up!"

"What!" exclaimed Gus. "HIM set 'em up!"

"What!" exclaimed Gus. "HIM set 'em up!"

"Mat bis to set 'em up!"

"What!" exclaimed Gus. "HIM set 'em up!"

"An Dinkston, with a lofty air, threw down the fifty cent piece he had bospones; and, request financial assistance?"

anyway, we meet here on pleasure, not business. I could sue you in the muni-cipal court for them twenty-seven dol-lars what is owed me, get judgment against you, and yet I wouldn't be mad "How much?" asked Mr. Jarr, putting manipulating the money it contained so Falernian!"
that a small roll of bills stayed hidden "I don't be 概念把的表现的形式和影响的表演,现象的数别的的表现的现在表现的表演,但是是自己的是在实现是,现象来是是是是是是是是是

Such a sum is profligate," said when Dinkston. "Thank you indeed, and when the present difficulties that beset me the present difficulties that beset me they mentioned their several desires, have passed, when my exchequer is and then Gus said, "Now, seeing that have passed, when my exchange of Dink- this big-word bum he treats, I am going

"What are you talking about?" asked Gus, peevishly.
"I will need my thorax moistene So saying, he led Mr. Jarr back into again in just about half an hour," said he bar and cried merrily:

"And now with wassail let us acclaim would give me now till then. Meanwhile, unless I mistake, Mr. Varr invites us to by the forelock, so to speak. May I ask that the ebullient greetings, the felicitations upon your return, the acciamations and salutations may not wholly obviate a matter extremely necessitous? While "What!" exclaimed Gus. "HIM set heart made him careless of his fees in 'em up? Let me see his money first!"

Mr. Dinkston, with a lofty air, threw down the fifty cent piece he had borrowed from Mr. Jarr.

when he judged such to be the really "How much?" asked Mr. Jarr, putting "Ho, landlord, behold the trinkgeld!" needful medicine. It was in Southwark his hand into his trousers pocket and he cried. "A stoup of your best that he practised as a doctor, and it was through one of his Southwark pa-"I don't handle that brow, and there's tients a journeyman printer—that he companion to keep up the dignity of a HD to her easy expression of things GENERAL. "What's your idea of prosperity?" "Always a little more than I have."-"The weather ain't cold, and there's Detroit Free Press.

